Another year's Memorial Day has come, and we were about to say, gone; but it can never be said of a memorial season which was so well observed as the one of 1892, that it has gone. It came, but in its observance has left an imprint upon both old and young which can never go.

By the lesson of the past week, the old flag, with its constantly increasing stars, will be made to mean more than it ever has in the past by the largely increased observance of the day, not with noise and pomp, but by a deep and carnest feeling of reverence and respect. Government and the Telegraph.

Government and the Telegraph.

The popular mind should be disabused of the deiusion that the telegraph system has been built up entirely by private capital and that therefore this capital is entitled to the present large profits, as a reward for its courage and enterprise.

Prof. Morse offered his invention to the government for the paltry sum of $100,000, and urged the postmaster-general to construct and operate telegraph lines as an adjunct of the mail service. The offer was declined on the ground that "such a thing as transmitting messages from one point to another over a wire was prepostorus and impossible." However, Prof. Morse prevailed upon congress to appropriate $30,000 for an experimental line and with this money the first wire was pullt and operated in America. Thus the telegraph owed its very inception and introduction to the munificence of the government and should have been operated as a part of our postal system from the outset.

Agairfin 1862 congress was invoked to aid the extension of the telegraph. A bonus of $400,000, payable in ten installments, was voted to the company organized to build the Pacific line. The extension of the telegraph across the continent from the Missouri river to Sacramento involved the construction of about 1700 miles of pole line. This bonus of $250 per, mile not only paid for the whole line, but left a very considerable margin. The promoters of the scheme within five years realized three circumstances. He must take that that s deads was caused by acute meningitis, resulting from contused wounds of the head, produced by an assault and battery upon him, committed two days before he died, by some person or persons r yet unknown.

Woman's Progress.

her perpetual youth, she Lad come to tell the story of fifty years. In beginning her lecture Mrs. Stone said, that, aithough her ambiect was Fifty Years of Progress, she should go back further than fifty years. For, while the past fifty years had been the most notable years than been done in securing justice for her than in hundreds of previous years, yet something had been accomplished in the sarilier years. Besides to properly measure the wonderful progress of the past fifty years we need to understand the condition of things in the previous years. The lecturer them went back to the earliest years of our country's history and graphically described the narrow sphere in which was often done her, both by law and custom. She said the Pligrim that which was often done her, both by law and custom. She said the Pligrim that he shoots were not for girls, but for boys only. The first opening made for girls in the public schools was to allow them the use of the school house for a single hour in the day when it was not needed for the boys. The woman who had any education was the exception among women. The lecturer noted many things from the laws and custom, some of them amusing, some of them saddening, which it is hard to believe ever existed.

She then traced woman's progress step by step up to the later times when woman be gan to more deeply feel her needs and more truly realize her power. She then showed how rapidly woman had gone forward. Whereas fifty or sixty years ago only three or four occupations were open to her, now more than three hundred are open to her, and the end is not yet. The successive steps in this progress were noted and the self-sacrificing labors of those who had contributed to bring it about were duhad contributed to bring it about were du ly recognized.

The lecturer closed with an eloquent ap peal for the recognition of woman's equal ity with man which would only come when uffrage had been granted as the crown an suffrage had been granted as the crown and seal of her full equality. At the close of the lecture Mr. Henry B. Blacknell gave a stirring address on equal rights, in which he showed a perfect mastery of the subject and an ability both to instruct and inspire. A very large audience was present and at the close of the service many came for-ward, to greet them as old acquaintances, or, to be introduced to the distinguished reformers.

It May Be Thomas.

II. A. Thomas delivered the Memorial Day oration before Wilder Post, G. A. R., of Hanover, on Decoration Day. We learn that—as of course those who know him expected—new laurels were won by our young candidate for Congress, and that Hanover is now "solid" in his support. Mr, Thomas seems to have a good fighting chance and the press throughout the district is disposed to treat his candidacy seriously, giving him many favorable "puffs." To all appearances, unless Mr. Morse reconsiders his declination, it is quite likely to be Congressman Thomas of Weymouth. It May Be Thomas A Foul Mass of Sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing inter pain if the skin was broken by scratchi and discharging constantly. SAVING A MAN'S LIFE.

He Was on the Precipice, but Ten Cents I was going down Cortlandt street when I encountered a middle aged man who stopped me and said: "I am no beggar, sir. I'm not asking for money, but I want you to do me a favor."
"What is it?"
"(Your along please."

"Come along, please."

About half a square below was another middle aged man seated with his back against a store door and his chin "Here's the place, sir," said my guide, as he turned aside.

"Who's this man?"

"A friend of mine. Me and him have been partners, so to say, for over a dozen years."

"Well, what ails him?"

"Clear discouraged and wants to die, sir. Here, Jim, rouse up; here's a gent as wants to talk to you."

Jim lifted his head, gave me a brief look and then lowered it again.

"It come on me very sudden like," whispered the first man as we sat down.
"As I said, me and Jim has traveled to the standard times together, and I never knew him to be break down before. He's always been as hopeful and cheerful as if we had a million dollars back of us."

"If he's sick why don't you call a policeman?" I asked.

"It isn't sickness of the body, sir, but of the mind, and no policeman could help that. He just feels in his own mind that it's no use to continue the struggle any longer. We came over from Jersey at noon and Jim was chirky as you please, but along about an hour ago he says to me, says he:

"Tom, it's no use. The world is agin us and we can't never climb up. We are penniless, hungry and cold, and we might as well give in. Let's go and jump in the river."

"Wel, sir, I wasn't that discouraged that Jim was. I said to him that we —Memorial Day was very generally recognized in the churches of this village last Sunday. At the Universalist church, Rev. Mr. Eaton preached on "Lessons of the Day" from Exodus, XII: 23, "What mean ye by this service." The discourse was eloquent and emphasized the following points; "The ceremonies of Memorial Day are especially conducive to these ends: First, the celebration of the day cultivates the national spirit. Second, it freshly, forcibly, painfully, reminds us of the price which was paid for the maintenance of the Union and the preservation of our liberties. Third, it emphasizes our realization of the debt we owe our country's defenders. Fourth, it teaches lessons of loving trust and immortal hope. These several propositions were enforced by argument and apt illustration.

Miss Hunt, th ing she could feel wind blowing thro the room, was about to investigate, w ing she could feel wind blowing through the room, was about to investigate, when she perceived some one moving about the house. She called to Mrs. Torrey, and opening a window, gave an alarm. Mr. G. G. French heard her call for help, and responded at once, but the thieves, taking flight at the first alarm, made good their escape. They had effected an entrance by the pantry window, which had been left unlocked, and to all appearances they ransakked the lower floor to their hearts' content. Mrs. Torrey has recently moved upstairs, taking the greater part of her valuables with her, so that they did not get much below. They were meeting with better success upstairs when discovery compelled them to decamp. Money and articles to the value of twenty-five dollars were stolen. Among the articles taken was a pair of gold bowed spectacles belonging to Mrs. Torrey, a watch charm which belonged to her late husband, and a napkin ring. The thieves left no tangible clew to aid in their detection. Two other breaks were made the same night, presumably by the same parties. At the residence of Solomon Ford, on Bridge street, they secured a pocket-book containing six dollars, the property of the hired girl. Although other parts of the house bear traces of having been visited, nothing else has as yet been missed. The attempt to enter the double house on Sea street, coupled by Mrs. Debora Harding and Mr. John Bochman, was unsuccessful. The burglars got into the back room, but being unable to force an entrance into the main house, left empty handed.

The New Jersey Democratic state convention met at Treaton Wednesday, the 25th. The mention of Cleveland's name brought the delegates to their feet and a great wave of cheers swept over the convention. A second later the name of David B. Hill was hissed. The platform refers to Mr. Cleveland as the statesman who boldly took the decisive step in the way of tariff reform, and it instructs its delegates to the national convention to east their yote of the state for Grover Cleveland as long as his name is before the convention.

Henry Watterton was elected a designe at large. The platform indorsed Cleveland's administration but did not instruct the delegates.

In an interview Attorney General Miller is credited with saying: "I do not look for a snap judgment on the part of the Minneapolis convention. There will be no stamped on the defragates. I had be re-nominsted on the defragates. The re-nominsted of the great mass of the people of the United States are well-satisfied with the President's course. His administration has been a business one and such as to command itself to thinking men regardless of political sympathies.

The Prohibition state committee of Massachusetts has sent an alternate petition to the legislature asking either that an average of the vote for all state officers be taken to determine their standing as a three per cent party; or else that any party that has made nominationy as a three per cent party; or else that any party that has made nominationy as a three per cent party; or else that any party that has made nominationy as a three per cent party; or else that any party that has made nominationy as a three per cent party; or else that any party that has made nominated by the considered a regular political party and be allowed to make its nominations by caucus and convention in the regular way.

The Vermont Legislature of 1892 will be called upon to elect a United States Senator to succeed Hon. Redfield Proctor who at present holds the Senatorial appointment of Gov. Page. It is universally conceded that Senator Proctor will be his own successor.

The carousals have begun again at Lov-ell's Grove. Last Sunday saw the first and we hope the last of this season. The authorities should nip this Sabbath break-ing in the bud this year, before we shave a full repetition of the scandalous actions of last summer.

As the time draws near for the legislature to bid adieu to the State House, it looks as though there might be another investigation on hand, and the saidest part of it will be that there will be no Butler, Brown or George Fred Williams with nerve to fight the alleged bribery.

The disasters at Oil Creek river by the terrible flood of water and burning oil was only less destructive than the great flood in the Conemaugh valley, because in this case the flood had fewer human beings and less of the property of men upon which to exert its fury. The loss to the inhabitants and workers of the peaceful valley is none the less severe, however, and hundreds of families are left destitute, mourning the loss of father, husband or brother.

As in the case of the Joanstown disaster the public aid has been invoked, and already in many cities subscription lists are being rapidly filled.

There has been but little talk the past week in regard to the electric roads, but the need of them is no less than it has ever been; in fact there is no one modern convenience so much needed to annihilate the distance between the several villages of the town, and to improve the real estate lying along the line of the proposed road. Next Tuesday afternoon there will be a hearing at the Town house on two of the petitions, and an opportunity will occur for people to lend their encouragement to the work.

The Republican Convention opened at Minneapolis on Tuesday under somewhat unusual and remarkable circumstances. Up to within a few days there had been practically but one candidate, President Harrison. James G. Blaine, the acknowl-Harrison. James G. Blaine, the acknowledged leader of the Republican party, who might have had the nomination almost without opposition if not by acclamation, had voluntarily—and it would appear most unnecessarily—written a letter to the chairman of the republican national committee, explicitly stating that he would not be a candidate before the convention. Mr. Harrison on the other hand announced his candidacy manfully and openly and Mr. Blaine continued the trusted cabinet officer, retaining the confidence of his chief.

til suddenly the country was startled by e dramatic resignation of Mr. Blaine, sich virtually announced his acquies-nce in the plans being made to secure his nomination.

The question that naturally arises in the minds of most men is, why, with the tide so certainly in his favor, did Mr. Blaine write his strong letter of with-drawal hat February if he had a desire for the nomination. To throw away an offered treasure and then cry for it to be given back again is mere boys' play and not fit for men and statesmen.

Unless we much misjudge the prevailing sentiment, even the friends of Mr. Blaine are disappointed and feet that he has placed himself in the hands of unserupulous political managers who are not his best friends. That the transactions of the past few days have the flavor of the dishonorable cannot be denied by the most ardent Blaine admirers and their idol has grown less tall in their eyes than he was before. Whether successful in securing the nomination or not, or if nominated, whether he is elected or not, there will be on record one more wafortunate matter to be ex-

Rev. G. B. Rogers described the characteristic difference between the European and the American Sunday and made an earnest plea for the upholding of the day of our fathers, especially in view of the large immigration to our shores of those who are not in sympathy with it. As against much current Sunday desecration, the day is not to be used for finding one's own pleasure in any one of the varied ways of its violation, but in ways of real rest and spiritual benefit.

Rev. E. O. Dyer of South Braintree spoke of his own observation of the continental Sunday and urged a right use of the day especially in the line of helpful reading, such as, in addition to the Bible, books of biography, devotional works, religious poetry and periodicals. He pointed out the detrimental results of reading the Sunday paper with its great mass of secularity unfitting for the best uses of the day.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Gazette published a paragraph in the Pepple's Column, I think from Mr. Torrey, giving his ideas of grafting trees. He said that it could be done successfully in any month of the year. I will allow that scions can be set in any month of the year but those set in the fall or winter months will in my opinion amount to very little. Since reading his information I have, for an experiment, set grafts every month and those that I set from June to February are good curiosities for some dime museum; and if I was acquainted with Messrs Austin & Stone I would notify them that I could furnish them with curiosities that would certainly draw a crowd to their museum. The best time to set scions is in April and the first of May and then if properly set, Sper cent. can be warranted to live and if a choice of trees could be selected, 55 per cent. can be warranted to live and if a choice of trees could be selected, 55 per cent. can be warranted to live, especially if we use what we call wild fruit trees, taken from the pastures, and by the way they make the best of trees) and when about an one luch in diameter if grafted the scions seldom fail to live and make alzere growth. Sunday Observance in South Weymouth.

A largely attended union meeting in the interest of Sunday observance was held in the Old South church on Sunday evening, the choir of the church assisting.

The consideration of the theme was in troduced by Rev. It. Calvord, who briefly pointed out the divine origin of man, the divine seeking of his welfare, and the divine example and command touching the Sabbath—Gogl loves man and therefore makes and emphasizes the Sabbath, which is not a hardship or harsh enactment, but an exceeding blessing, fitting in exactly to man's need.

The president made a short address of welcome and introduced Mr. Henry A. Thomas, Esq., of South Weymouth as the first speaker of the evening. In the course of his remarks Mr. Thomas paid a tribute to the town clubs such as the Century, the Wednesday Night and the Columbian and to the work they were doing in fostering the welfare of the town. He hoped he should never see the old township divided and said he took greater pride in saying he was a citizen of the town of Weymouth than he could ever take in being a citizen of any one of its present parts even though that one was the south village. He spoke of the advantages which we enjoy as a whole and declared that the same difficulties which the town experiences today whole and declared that the same dimen-ties which the town experiences today would confront the separate towns which might result from a division.

He understood that a movement was at present on foot to bring about such a divi-sion but he most sincerely hoped that it would not meet with any encouragemen The future of our town is largely in the hands of the rising generation and while he would show the greatest deference to those who had grown old in the service and not cast aside the tried and true he would not cast aside the tried am true he would also encourage the young men of our town in their endeavors to work for its welfare. He said that Weymouth is second to no town in the commonwealth, and closed his address with a plea for loyalty to her interest.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE FLAG.

Promotes Patriotism.

The organized "school house flag movement" has been in progress during the greater part of four years. In that short time the seed sown in one carnest suggestion has borne fruit in school after tate.
Though there are still many schools state.

Though there are still many schools which are not as yet provided with the flag, the time does not seem far distant when no public school shall be too poor, too remote or too indifferent to have the stars and stripes floating above its roof.

Sufficient time has passed since the movement-began to make it possible to judge the results of the unfurling of the flag above so many schools.

Has the proceeding had a real meaning to the scholars? Has it stirred up in the breasts of boys and girls the hope of living to be brave men and good women? Has it begun to serve with the children of the millions from abroad who inherit no love for our country as a symbol around which will grow up a thoroughly American feeling?

Has it stimulated a love of the study of history, and given children a new idea of the significance of law and order with freedom, so that they themselves another teacher from Missouri, "quite a change in the children's feelings toward the flag. Now they seem to think that it is their flag—an effect that never could have been produced by talking."

Many other teachers report a distinct growth of real patriotism. In a school in Maine, "almost every day after flag raising one could hear the children cheering the old flag."

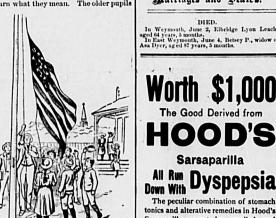

Even the little children count the stars in the blue field of their flag, and learn what they mean. The older pupils

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Oplum, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for chil-dren. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best romedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by foreing optum, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful acquaits down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Da. J. F. Kinchelor, Conway, Ark.

"Casteria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." II. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "Our physicians in the children's depart-ment have spoken highly of their experi-ence in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular medical supplies was a series that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

South Weymouth Items.

—Emulating the example of the cities and some of the larger towns, it has been thought desirable for South Weymouth to have a 4th of July celebration for the children. Therefore the Norfolk Cycle Club has constituted itself a committee to promote this object, the members to circulate papers among the residents, soliciting contributions of money to defray the expenses of the occasion. The teachers of the public schools have also been approached with the request that they will encourage the children to advertise the affair with enthusiasm in the homes. The program proposed is an appropriate entertainment in Fogg's Hall the afternoon of July 4th, by some lecture bureau talent, and display of fireworks and band concert in the evening. The Norfolk Cycle Club takes hold of this thing for no other reason than to contribute to the happiness' of the children, belleving that the machinery of club already organized can forward this thing better and more expeditiously than otherwise. It is hoped that the community will fall in with the idea, and that each citizen will contribute what he can easily afford to accomplish the desired result.

Sick Headache

Symptoms. — Is apt to begin in the morning, on waking from a deep sleep. At first there is an oppressive feeling in the head, which gradually merges into a severe heavy pain in the temples, fulness and tenderness in one eye and extending across the forehead, and distressing sickness at the stomach. Sick headaches are the outcome of billiousness or disordered state of the stomach, cause great suffering, and often lead to serious illness.

-Mrs. Betsy Dyer, another of the few who are permitted to remain among their kindred and friends who have grown up around them, far beyond the alloted time, crossed the silent river last Saturday morning, ripe with 87 years of noble living, Mrs. Dyer was born in East Weymouth in 1805, and was one of a family of fifteen children of Joseph and Nancy Frait. Of these fifteen children eleven lived to grow up and marry into other families, and today a large part of the people who are natives of the place are mourning the loss of one to whom they were bound by kindred ties, and many others who were not bound to the deceased by the same ties feel deeply the loss they have sustained in the departure of one whom to know was to love and respect. When but a little over fifteen years of age the deceased was united in marriage to Asa Dyer, whose family relations were such that the surviving children of Asa and Betsy Dyer are akin to nearly all the people who are natives of East Weymouth. Mrs. Dyer early united with the Methodist church, and during her long life has always been found an active worker in its interest and a hearty sympathizer in all movements for the salvancement of the cause of Christianity; and while, for the past few years, from the infirmities of age, not as much depended on for active work as in former times, her mental faculties were retained to a remarkable degree, and her advice and cousel will be much missed. The deceased leaves five sons and anghiters—Mrs. Nancy Bates, Mrs. Eliza Bicknell, Mrs. Frank Pool, A. N. Dyer of Taunton, and G. W. Dyer. —The festival at Temple hall, Monday evening, must be added to the list of snocesses which the Juniors have scored during the past year. A very pleasant hour at the refreshment tables was sandwiched between an enjoyable two-part entertainment, which consisted of readings by Miss May F. Bridgham and solos by Miss Marion Cain and Miss Cobb of Hingham. Miss Bridgham has delighted thousands of our townspeople with her quaint imitations of child-life, but never has she given one half the pleasure that she gave on this occasion in her inimitable description of "The Ruggles" Dinner Party." The social hour was given over to games and conversation. The net proceeds will go to swell the fund for field day prizes.

COLUMBUS DAY, OCT. 12.

A Message to the Public Schools of America.

LOCAL OBSERVANCES SUGGESTED

Town and Village in the Republic by a Local Celebration of Which the Pub lie School is the Center.

To the scholars of the public school of the United States the executive committee of the Columbian public school celebration sends the following mes mittee of tag Common profits School, message:

The 12th of October, 1892, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, ought to be observed everywhere in America.

The day will be marked in Chicago by the dedication of the Columbian exposition grounds. The day also may be signalized in every town and village in the republic by a local celebration of which the public school is the center.

The public schools of the republic will form the most fitting centers for all these local celebrations. A national public school observance simultaneous with the Unicago exercises will awaken a popular interest in the coming exposition. Far more important is the fact that the public school has the right to occupy the most prominent place in the celebration. The public school is the one characteristic institution which links all the neighborhoods together, and can thus furnish a common bond for a national celebration. The public school is the original content of the four centuries of American civilization. The public school is the original content of the four centuries of American civilization. The public school of today aways the hundred years to come.

How 11 Came About.

can civilization. The public school of today sways the hundred years to come.

How it Came About.

The first approval of this suggestion came from the public school scholars themselves. When the plan was first proposed by The Youth's Companion, January, 1891, thousands of letters were received, testifying to the enthusiasm with which the scholars responded.

The world's congress auxiliary of the Columbian exposition then took up the proposal, calling upon all the people of the republic to observe the day in their own localities, and suggesting that the public schools be everywhere the centers of the celebration.

The superintendents of education were the next to recognize the fitness of giving to the public schools the first place in this Columbian anniversary. At their national convention in Brooklyn in February, 1892, they took charge of the movement, and appointed the undersigned an executive committee to lead the schools in their commemoration.

Appeal to the Scholars.

Appeal to the Scholars. This executive committee now appeals to the scholars themselves to be the first

The first thing to do is to determine when you read this message, that you will do all you can to induce your school to enter the celebration. Then show to enter the cetebration. Then show this message to your teachers; every pa-triotic teacher will be glad to help you if you show yourselves in earnest. Take the message to the school committee and the superintendent—their consent and add are indiscensible.

After you secure the support of all these, then let the school vote that it will enter the celebration.

The next 'thing after this public vote will be the appointment of a strong committee made up jointly from citizens, scholars and teachers to take charge. The committee should in all cases consist of those most in earnest, so that the work may not be checked by any possible change of teachers during the summer.

The Programme.

A programme of exercises will be furnished by the executive committee. It will be simple and adapted to any school, yet so arranged that more elaborate exercises may be added wherever desired. The aim of this official programme will be that certain leading exercises may be the same in every school in the republic, and that at least in one feature the Chicago programme and the school programme may be identical. In due time this executive committee will make further suggestions.

In due time this executive committee will make further suggestions.

The Local Committee.

The duty of your committee will first be to interest the citizens and to prepare the school. Precessions may be arranged. The veterans, both north and south, will gladly be escorts for the schools. The other military, civic and religious organizations of each town will lend their aid if they see that the schools are determined that the celebration shall be worthy of the day. The local press will be the most valuable of all supervis worthy of the day. The local press will be the most valuable of all supports. On Oct. 12 the stars and stripes should be floating from every school house in the republic. It is the hope of the friends of common school education.

school education that not one public school in the United States will allow itself to be left out in this most memora-ble celebration.

How to Freshen and Restore Velvet.
Velvet can be washed if soiled and restored to its first freshness by putting a hot iron bottom upward with a wet towel folded in several thicknesses over it and then passing the velvet with the pile up over it slowly back and forth until the steam has lifted the pile to its proper position. After the pile is all proper position. After the pile is all raised lay the velvet on a smooth place where nothing will touch the pile to flatten or crush it down and leave it to day and when dry it will be like new. lry and when dry it will be like new.

Some fancy the charms of the lilly-white maid,
Of etherial form and languishing e.y.,
Who faints in the sunshine and Who faints in the sunshine and
And is always "just ready to ole."
But give me the gird of the sunshine face,
fire blood in whose veins courses leastify and free,
With the vigor of youth in her movements of grace.
She is the origit a vein: Oh that is the madien for net?

The last great day of the convention opened with McKinley on time to a dot and oready for business.

He has done an immense amount of work since coming here, but looks as happy as poor Wolcott of Colorado did when nominating Blaine; but poor Wolcott knew at once it was a forlorn hope for but little of the cheering at the mention of the name of the cheering at the mention of the name of the 'greatest man on the American continent,' came from the delegates: most of it was from the enlookers, not the participants in the convention.

After Wolcott of Colorado had made the nomination of Blaine the roll call of states for nominees went on with no response until Indiana was reached, then Uncle Dick Thompson arose and walked to the platform. He said he was not there to make a speech but a nomination and his nominee was Benjamin Harrison.

The cheers which followed the nomination were at once convincing that Harrison and Harrison alone, was "in it." The excitement rose and fell, and rose again like the billows of a mighty ocean.

Mrs. Clarkson, however, was bound not to give up her idol so soon, and rising on the back of the stage, she waved her white parasol in the air and called for three cheers for Blaine. Gallantry to the plucky little woman called for a response, but the cheers were more for the woman than for the man from Maine.

Yes, the convention is over; we have had the great men of the country here, and, as I said before, have enjoyed it; we have had many notable men here from all over the land, and as we hope the great northwest city is more to them than it was before, so are they to us.

A recent statement of Commissioner Merrill's is that the benefit (?) associations now winding up in this state owe 840,734, 775 and have less than 85,000,000 with which to pay the claims against them. This is not a very cheering outlook for the claim holders, but then, if the companies could get a new lease of life perhaps some others would come in and thus shift the burden of loss to the shoulders of the late comers. This benefit business has been one of the greatest disgraces that Massachusetts has ever been called upon to bear the stigma of.

At Minneapolis Blaine got the hurrahs but when it came to votes Harrison's counted the most but where did they come from? Here is an analysis of the vote which shows that of the Blaine votes 320 were from the northern states—the old free states—and 104 were from the southern or old slave states. Of the Harrison vote 324 were from the northern states and 220 from the old slave or southern states. In the north Blaine had 77 msjority over Harrison, and in the south Harrison had 116 majority over Blaine.

In the three great states of the union,
New York, Pennylvania and Ohio,
Blaine's vote was 125 and Harrison 5.5.
If, therefore, Harrison should be elected it will be by the votes of those states that preferred Blaine, as Massachusetts is the only state that gave Harrison a majority at the convention which is not either a sure democratic state or a very doubtful one.

which were the rapid transit of the Buste bill through several stages, its veto by the governor, its return and second passage in the House over the veto and its final defeat

Another notable feature of the last day was the rapid pushing of the Osborn in-vestigation and the disqualifying of that lobbyist for attempting to bribe members to vote against the Cape Cod Canal Bill, a bill was and should have been defeated ut the use of money. At 1.30 this Speaker Barrett laid saide the gavel.

Reception to Rev. and Mrs. Frary.
On Tuesday evening a reception was tendered to Rev. and Mrs. Frary in the Union cered to Rev. and Mrs. Frary in the Union church vestries. A large number were present to greet their former much beloved pastor and his wife by cordial hand-shakes and hearty good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Frary are stopping with Mr. Edward II. The class of '88 N. H. S. was well represented at Tufts Class Day, upon the invitation of their classmate, A. Everett Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester, Grace W. Mitchell, Jennie W. Rice, Susie B. Litch-field, and also two of the teachers, Miss Edith Parkhurst and Miss Emma Fisher were of the party of friends who were hospitably entertained by Mr. Peterson. The class still feels interested in every one of its members and is proud to have it contain one who shows so much ability as the one who has just passed through four years of college life.

At that time of night or rather morning, people rallied slowly to the assistance of Mr. Raymond, and before the arrival of the fire department it looked as though the dwelling-house adjoining would be licked up by the tongues of fire. Hurriedly furniture and carpets were removed to the vestry of the Catholic church near by, but the house was eventually saved, although in a somewhat damaged condition.

The estimated loss is $8,000, on which there are two policies of insurance of $1800 by A. S. Jordan & Co. and others by Z. L. Bicknell, making a total of about $8,000.

In attempting to save his property in the barn Mr. Alvah Raymond was burned about his head and neck. The necessary delay in the arrival of the fire apparatus only emphasizes the need of the fire-alarm telegraph which the town has voted to establish.

been without material development; they had been asked by a thousant of her citi-zens to come there with the electric road that they might have the accommodation of which they were so much in need and through it the material development which The closing hours of the Legislature of 1860 were marked with the usual rush of business, the most notable features of which were the rapid transit of the Butter bill through several stages, its veto by the strictions. He said they were entitled to strictions. the franchise as the Weymouth company had failed in its agreement made with them to have a road in operation over a part of the route on or before the first of June;

the route on or before the first of June; again they were entitled to it because they could take people to Boston, which was could take people to Boston, which was long on the objective point of all roads, without going via South Weymouth and the Abingtons. In conclusion he said they were ready to begin operations at once and have their road completed in sixty days.

The speaker was followed by Col. B. S. Lovell who explained that the agreement with the Quincy company, alluded to by the last speaker, had failed because suitable legislative enactment could not be had in time to carry it into effect. Should investigations, now being made by a committee appointed for the purpose, be satisfactory, he, with others, was ready to take stock at once and build a road which would meet the wants of the whole town and not a small section of it.

stock at once and build a road which would meet the wants of the whole town and not a small section of it.

E. S. Beals Esq. arose with the question of how long a time the committee wanted in which to report. He said that for two hundred years the people of North Weymouth had had no means of exit but by water, then for fifty years they must cross a bridge and pay a toll in order to get out of the place; for the last twenty-five years they have been relieved of this but were still hampered for want of better accommodations and he believed they were to be had by and through the Quincy company.

The question was further discussed by John Stoddard, D. H. Benson, Cornelius Robbins, John Hollrook, F. A. Torrey and a R. A. Cushing in favor of the road, A. P. Worthen Esq., Col. Lovel, Major Hart and M. Stiles in opposition.

The clurch had been elaborately decorated by a committee of ladies of the Universality and the thory was the want of the place of the last twenty-five years they have been relieved of this but were still hampered for want of better accommodate in the committee of the place of the committee of the place of though the nominee is not their first choice. In the present instance the people accepted Mr. Morse's letter in good faith and have brought out some good men, not the least of whom is H. A. Thomas, Esq., of Weymouth.

As we have before stated, this, the largest town in the district, has never been represented in the halls of congress by one of its citizens. We still think this is the Wortness range, consistency with the August Mr. Stiles in opposition.

The closing argument for the Quincy road and in opposition to the Weymouth one was made by Major F. A. Bicknell who gave a resume of several legislative hearings in regard to the business of the meet-road and in opposition to the Weymouth one was made by Major F. A. Bicknell who fare looking exceedingly well, proving that the air of this place for a few days and both are looking exceedingly well, proving that the air of their western home, Pomona, Cal., agrees with them. Mr. Frary states that the climate there is most delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ambier assisted Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. East Weymouth, Rev. Mr. Hadou organist of the society, favored the company with a number of his original compositions on the plano.

Among those present we noticed the following elergruen: Rev. Mr. Eaton, Rev. Mr. Hyde, Rev. Mr. Wheelock of Hingham, Rev. Mr. Hudon of North Weymouth, Rev. Mr. Vorhees and Rev. Mr. Lord.

An incident of the evening that will be long remembered by those present was the bilinding flash—and the startling report following—of the lightning which struck the wires near by and entered the railway station, and the audden going out of the electric lights. Had it not been for the banquet lamps darkness and confusion would have followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frary expect to remain in the Kast two or three months, and Mr. Frary will preach at Union church some time during the summer.

Monday evening at the age of severaly-nev years.

Mr. Bates was the youngest of a family of six children of Charles and Patia Bates, and was born on the spot which has always been his home, July 11, 1816.

Music was born in him, both his father and mother being noted singers in their time, and music was his life work. In his working days it was no unusual thing for him to have from six to eight singing schools at a time on his hands, in addition for him to have from six to eight singing schools at a time on his hands, in addition to which there was often one or more concerts in preparation at the same time. For exercial years he sang in, and led, the choir of the Old North church and subsequently that of the Prilgrim church, North Weymouth. His more recent work being with the choir of the Congregational church at East Weymouth, of which he was chorister for several years, but abandoned it about three years ago on account of declining health and the infirmity which terminated fatally as above stated.

The old Weymouth Glee Club was one of his pet institutions, and the surviving members of it will recall many happy hours spent with the deceased.

He was not an active party politician but always took a deep interest in town matters, and was for several years on the board of assessors, his large knowledge and experience in that business having eminently qualified him for the work. His services were sought for, and for several years during and after the war, he was engaged as internal revenue assessor.

Mr. Bates leaves a widow and one son, Sidney, another son, the late Alpheus Bates, having preceeded him by a little more than a year.

Children's Day at Union Church.

The observance of Children's Day at the Union church last Sunday brought out an exceedingly pleasant programme. I There were several novel features. The children of the primary department under Miss Thereas M. Jenkins, Miss Cora F. Richards and Mrs. T. A. Watson gave a very pretty entrance march with banners to the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers." Another feature was an "Alphabet of Wisdom," consisting of Bible verses beginning with the letters of the alphabet. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Huckel, gave the children a very thorough drill and they responded finely. Another feature was the exercise called "Tributes to the Cross." A white cube a foot square marked with the words, "Faith, Hope, Trust," represented character, square on all sides. Then came a revelation. When the cube was opened, it formed listelf into a great and beautiful cross of evergreen with the central word "Love" upon it. It represented love in sacrifice as the secret of the noblest yelaracter. Then ten boys and girls came with verses and flowers and paid their tributes of love and praise to the Cross, laying their flowers at its foot.

The superintendent, Mr. C. T. Crane, gave his annual address, paying a tribute to Miss Helen Dwight, the only pupit of the Sinday-school who had died during the year, by a wreath of dimmortelles. Life Miss Flossie Walsh, a wee tot, made a cunning little address in verse and the Pastor, Mr. Huckel, taked very pleasantly to the little ones on "Jesus and the Children." The decorations were unusually beautiful and the music by the quartette, including one of Mr. Howard M. Dow's latest productions, was very fine. In the evening Rev. Mr. Huckel spoke on the theme, "The Command to the Children."

Odd Fellows' Memorial Service.

At the Universalist church last Sunday afternoon, Louis A. Cook, Esq., Grand Warden of the Odd Fellows of Massachu-setts, delivered the second annual memo-rial address before Wildey lodge No. 21,

In the death of these two, father and son, a void has been created which will be deeply felt.

Funeral services were held at his late residence yesterlay afternoon, Rev. Datiel Evans officiating. The full choir of the Congregational church, of which he was so long the leader, was present and sang the following selections: "God is Love," "Thy swill Be Done," by request of the deceased, and "Ablade With Me," to music arranged by R. F. Raymond.

The remains were interred in the family lot at North Weymouth, T. H. Humphrey, A Abraham Bates, Clifford Pratt and John Dee acting as bearers.

At the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Holbrook of Park avenue, a reception was held for the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook, from 8 to 9 o'clock.

The interior of the house had been beautifully adorned with palms and bydrangers by florist G. Lester Hollis. The grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns aided by Nature's pyrotechnics.

The presents of pictures, silver and china ware, and checks were many and costly.

At 920 o'clock the bridal procession profusely ornamented with ribbons, old sheer, rice, etc., left for the railroad station whence Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook went to Boston, to continue their bridal tour to New York city. South Weymouth thus furnishes the third addition to the population of Holbrook width a short time. Give us a protective tariff on matrimonial ventures or reciprocity.

—It has been remarked by those coming here to live from surrounding towns, and this not in a spirit of uncharitableness nor of manifest enmity, that as a community we are too stiff in our attitudes toward new comers, comparable rather to an exclusive caste than to a liberal hearted set of people and that it might almost be said of us, as is so sadly true in Boston, that our neighbors could live and die and we not know it until we saw the funeral. Of course the låst thrust is happily misplaced. Our social system is superior to that of the Hub in this respect at least. But yet it is true that there is food for much reflection in these impressions and in a statement market by its marked scarcity at our none too frequent social gatherings. It isn't living to merely eat, work, sleep and read the daily paper. Why not explode some of the bottled up enthusiasm and wisdom we've been so jealously guarding and then there will be fewer complaints about our non-social qualities.

A Wonderful Cure.

Ice cream as a medium for bronchitis, diphtheria, canker, tonsilitis, inward ul-cers, sleeplessness and nervous trouble.— The value of ice cream for certain intestincers, sleeplessness and nervous trouble.—
The value of ice cream for certain intestinal troubles is being advanced. Some, indeed most physicians, permit it through typhoid fever, but always insisting that it shall be of the purest make; no corn starch, gelatine, condensed milk or arrowroot, but good fresh milk and eggs with some cream.
A story has recently been going the rounds, in print, of the entire cure of a woman, who had an ulcer in the stomach, by the use of ice cream. She suffered from a serious affection of the eyes, directly traceable to digestive disturbance, and her physician finally placed her on ice cream as a sole diet; for eleven months she lived on ice cream, which resulted in an entire cure. The theory is, that the cream furnished ample nourishment, while the discased intestines, chilled from the low temperature of the flood, are prevented from getting inflamed during the process of digestion carried on by the healthy parts.
Merchant's ice cream, at East Weymouth, is made from fresh eggs, milk and cream.

The last mail goes in now on the 650 train and letters reactived here. urday, June 11, was postponed on account of the slim attendance.

—A union service in the interests of moral education was held in the Congregational church Sunday last at 2.30 o'clock. The meeting was largely attended as all other religious services in the village were suspended for the afternoon. The topic was "Sunday Observance." Rev. William Hyde spoke upon the purpose of the day; Rev. B. F. Eaton on Sunday recreations, Rev. Oliver Huckel on Sunday recreations, Rev. Oliver Huckel on Sunday recreation of Sabbath observance to church worship and reminded the people that these meetings were being held for a purpose, and had, or should have, a practical meaning. The church was very tastefully decorated with flowers and a special musical programme was provided for the occasion.

—The Columbia club held its second regular meeting Monday night; following the routine of business, was a paper by D. M. Easton on "Taxation in relation to education in our public schools." It was a carefully prepared paper and full of argument in favor of a universal state tax and state management of the whole school system. Following the paper was the discussion of the question, "Benefit to be derived from a local library over a town library." Rev. Daniel Evans opened for the affirmative and C. D. Canterbury and D. M. Easton spoke for the affirmative and W. H. Pratt, M. E. Hawes, Drs. Frazer and Chase, and I. M. Norcross for the negative. Weymouth, is the man who has started e "right thing in the right place." He purchased the property opposite the "Tufts estate," has entirely remodelled it, introduced every modern improvement, furnished it "spick and span" and placed it in charge of a cultivated and experienced lady, and announces that strictly first-class summer boarders can be accommodated with home-like surroundings, and with first-class service. The location, "Wampatuch Heights" is unsurpassed for scenic and healthful conditions, overlooking the beautiful Monatiquot, convenient to the station and within a half hour of Boston by rail. Nantasket Beach is easily reached by drives through charming villages and woodland. It has only to become known to be filled with delighted people. The establishment of such a splendid semi-hotel in our midst cannot but please our residents who have friends who desire to visit Weymouth and who have heretofore been unable to find suitable accommodation. We believe this enterprise is but the harbinger of more to come, and ultimately will be the means of awakening Old Weymouth, (ever 250 years old) from her lethargy.

Msj. Clay took a narrow strip of paper from an inner pocket, and held it before Mrs. Holden, taking care to keep a firm grip of the document.
"Is that your signature, madame?" he

"No, I never words than."

"Will you swear it?" asked the major, sharply.

"Certainly, I will swear it."

"Ah! Then—I see. This check is a forgery, is it?"

"What, then, do you mean to do!" asked the widow in trembling tones.

"Do? What does every one do who has been deceived by forgery?"

"Do you mean that you will prosecute my son?"

The major shrugged his shoulders and looked away.

"Oh, don't do that! Anything rather than that!" cried the ladies together.

"How can I help it?"

"Will you take half the money from me! Indeed, I can't spare any more," said the elder lady, after a few whispered words had passed between her and her companion.

"Hail!" No, indeed. The question is, rather how much more will you pay rather than that your son should be sent to penal servitude."

A scream, which the two ladies uttered simultaneously, showed that this brutal remark had the desired effect.
"Will you give me fifteen thousand for the check?" asked Cay hands.

"Better that, I should think, than—the alternative," said the major, coolly.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," he added, after a minute or two spent in reflection; "if you will sign a bond for £15,000, with an agreement to execute a mortgage for that amount over your mills and other property, I'll hand over the check to you and say no more about it."

"Ob, Mr. Clay—Maj. Clay, I mean—that's far too much! I couldn't give as much as that!" cried the lady simost in tears.

At length the widow agreed to execute such a deed as the major required; and that gentleman despatched a messenger to a friend of his who lived close by, and "who," he said, "knew a little law," to assist him in drawing up the document. In less than an hour this was accomplished. Half the money was to be paid in a week, and the remainder in three months' time. The deed was signed, sealed and delivered; the check signed "M. Holden," was duly handed over, and the two ladies went away.

Six days passed, and then Maj. Clay wrote to Mrs. Holden for the first installment of the £15,000. No answer was reply as he little expected. It was written by a solicitor; and it stated that the writer, Abel Jackson, would be bappy to accept services on behalf of Mrs. Holden of any writ which Msj. Clay might think it to issue.

The major turned pale on reading this note, and went out to consult with his friend. As the result of this consultation, he called on Mr. Jackson, carrying with him the deed which he had obtained. In a lew words he stated that he had a mortgage over Mrs. Holden's property for Mrs. Mrs. Jackson read it very carefully, and handed it back, merely observing, "Mrs. Holden knows nothing about it!" There is no doubt but that Mr. Morse was really very ill and that he resigned in good faith and he had the sympathy of the district in his illness. But the present assumption of his friends that there is no one to run but Mr. Morse and that he must therefore sacrifice his own inclinations etc., for the party's good, is to say the least a "little thin." Mr. Morse will be re-nominated and elected. Of that there can be no reasonable doubt, but that the 12th District contains no other availa-

The electric railroad is still "in the air."
It as yet has not touched the ground and that is where the people want to see it.
It was hoped that a decision would have investigations which are being made the selectmen have granted no franchise, the matter being continued to next Monday.

North Weymouth people favor the Quincy electric road as offering the best advantages to their begins its 114, we see hoped that matters will be so arranged as to be for the best good of the whole town without sacrificing any of the advantages that North Weymouth would be sure of through the Quincy Co.

The Democrats Have Done as Wa Expected of Them.

Chicago has been the focus of the pol ing the week, and so far as the head of th ticket of the Democratic party is concerned the nomination is what was expected, and judging by the enthusiasm and booming of cannon which filled the air in every direc-tion last night, Cleveland meets the wants of the rank and file of the party.

The second name on the ticket will be Gen. A. E. Stevenson of Illinois. With the possibility of the second man becoming the head of the nation, the question natur-ally arises, who is he? Under the former Cleveland, administration he was first as-sistant postmaster, and is said to have been an efficient officer and he also has the pres-ties of a good army wears.

The question of immigration received a share of the speaker's attention and while the speaker would throw open the door to the thrifty and desirable immigrant he would have our American labor protected from the cheap pauper labor of the old world.

He said the silver question was one of importance but not of the magnitude of protection and the fairly-used ballot box. In conclusion he thought with a free ballot and honest count their could be no question as to the result when the returns are all in.

At an early hour the misso of people which had gathered in Columbia square was a hasbigger of the enthusiasm which was to be manifested later. The early comers were entertained with an excellent open air concert by the American band.

Amid the shoating of the people and the strains of music a fine flag bearing the names of the republican standard bearers for the coming contest was flung to the breeze.

With the close of the out-door exercises the company repaired to Fogr's Opera House where the more formal services of the evening were to be held. On the platform were Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, specker for the occasion, L. A. Cook, Estippresident of the evening, officers of the South Weymouth republican club and a number of invited guests from other parts of the town and from abroad.

Mr. Cook opened the meeting with a stront and pointed address setting forth the object of the meeting, the expectations of the party and making a prophecy of a of a sure victory in November.

Henry Cabot Lodge was received with prolonged and enthusiastic cheers and for an hour held the analience's closest attention as he placed before them the past achievements of the party, the virtues of the present incumbent of the presidential office.

Band Concert.

Band Concert.

Police for Lovell's Grove.
The petition signed by the ministers of opin air band concerts was given by the Weymouth Band at the band stand in Jackson source, Wednesday night.

Preparatory to the concert the stand had been put in good condition, a new floor laid, and electric lights connected to it. A large crowd was in attendance both on foot and in carriages; a ten cent fee from each would have given the band much larger receipts than have been realized at some of their best concerts when they have incurred large expense by adding to their own members expensive outside talchat. The programme given was, a narch, "Wasterialed", "The Thunderer"; a galop, "Frastina"; selection, "Hondrey," and the books were gathered in.

The Description of the concert shall have the streets and filled the square was an appreciative one as they listented with interest until the last strains of moste died away and the books were gathered in.

As there is some explense to be incurred in carrying on a series of these concerts, it is hoped the people will respond to a popular subscription to defray the same.

Ring will be a decided addition to the already strong aggregation of batters.

The exercises opened with organ voluntary by Mrs. A. L. Flint, the selection being Processional March—Hatten; the choir next sang "The Lord is my Shepherd," after which was a reading of Scripture and prayer by Rev. J. H. Jenks of Canton, which was followed by the hymn "Know my Soul thy Full Salvation." Rev. J. H.
Jenks gave the first address of the day, taking for his subject, "The Influence of Religion in Character." The subject was further discussed by Rev. Mr. Hosmer of Neponset and Rev. Clerence Fowler of Randolph. Miss Etta Key next gave a solo, "Come unto Me."

Rev. E. A. Horton of Boston was the next

Big Headed Bourke Cockran.

Bourke Cockran is one of the most notable physically as well as intellectually of the prominent Tammany leaders. Particularly is he manarkable for the size of his head, which, though set on a pair of broad shoulders, is so large as to attract immediate attention. Somebody once called him a "leonine" man. His rise from an humble position in a dry goods store to his place at the bar is interesting.

Suffering Children

Our girl was a beautiful baby, fair and plump and leatility. But when she was two years old, sores broke out behind her ears and spread rapidly over her head and forehead down to her eyes, and into her neck. We consulted one of the best physicians in Brooklyn, but nothing did her any good. The doctors said it was caused by a scrofula humor in the blood. Her head became One Complete Sore offensive to the smell and dreadful to look at Her general health waned and she would lay in a large chair all day without any life or en

Being urged to try Hood's Sarsaparilla we did so. We soon noticed that she had more life and appetite. The medicine seemed to drive out more of the humor for a short time, but it soon began to subside, the itehing and burning censed, and in a few months her head became entirely

LEWISTON, Mr., Oct, 28, 1890.

DANA SARSAPARILLA Co.:—
Gentlemen,—For over ten years I have been a great sufferer with weakness peculiar to my sex. I would have for days at a time a terrible bearing—down feeling, accompanied by great exhaustion and severe pain in back and limbs. I would go to bed fatigued, and rise in the morning more exhausted than when I retired. Often after rising I would have a period of trembling, until at last my nerves were in a state of complete prostration. I would have little or no appetite. Almost constant headache, accompanied by strange sensations, etc. Such was my condition when I first heard of DANA'S SARSAPARILLA. Though I am but forty-three years of age, yet my hair is gray, and I look like a person near sixty years old.

While visiting my daughter, Mrs. Hardy, in Bangor, Me., she persuaded me to try a bottle of DANA'S SARSAPARILLA, and to please her I did so. That bottle helped me a little. The second one gave me a good appetite, and caused me to rest better nights. I continued to use it, and well. I'T HAS CURED ME! I feel like a new person! —"Not dead, but sleeping." This was the impression gained from the recent meeting of the Old North Improvement Society as to its previous condition. For more than a year now little has been done by the society, and the impression was very general that the society was dead. But not so. The lively interest attending Monday evening's meeting would seem to be sufficient to dash to the ground any hopes in that direction. With President Geo. White in the chair and nineteen members on the floor, the meeting transacted a considerable amount of business, viz., adding several amendments to the constitution, electing a board of officers, and settling the disposal of the church repair fund. Several fruitful discussions were interspersed upon topics connected with the society's future success, and the evening was conceded by all to be of special interest. Meetings are to be held the first Tuesday in each month, and it is hoped that a large number will be present, prepared to join, at the next meeting.

From the two latter these expressions of dissatisfaction have, very justly, been the most frequent. It surely is their province to criticise. Being responsible for the appearance of the unfor-tunate article, I take this first opportunity to publicly reveal Rex's identity and ex-ness my deep regret at having siven a GLANCE at the other side.

The man tells you the to puonely reveal first successful and successful and a false representation of the real feelings of the community by neglecting to acknowledge the gratuitous services of the artists from the Landing and omitting mention of the delight which their highly successful efforts caused all to experience. —The Children's Service at the Unitarian Church was enjoyed by a large number of the friends of the little ones, and much credit is due the members of this school for their fine rendering of difficult music and recitations. The concerted numbers on the programme were a "Song of Welcome, There's Beauty all Around Us, Sunshine Floods the Smiling Earth, Song of Summer, The World in Harmony, and The Lord is Reigning," interspersed with prayer and responses by the school, a sermonett (I Sam. Illi, 10) by the pastor, a spirited dialogue, The Child Judge, by Ethel Fisher and Bessie Bates, and the following recitations: What do the Pansles Think, Fanny Stetson; Questions and Answers, Ella Litchfield, The Dandelion, Addie Brooks; I Asked the Little Lovely Flower, Susie Brooks; To a Little Girl, Allie Lewis; What Says the Little Flower, Milly Gardner; Children's Day, Allie Gardner, and To the Unknown Donor of Bouquet, Jessie Tirrell:

—At the adjourned meeting of the Congregational Society held Monday night, the committee appointed to see what could be done toward placing the church in the hands of the society reported that they already had seventy-six of the pews secured, four others promised, three more they hoped to get, and three the owners refused to give up. A committee was appointed to get plans and specifications for the proposed changes and additions and another committee to solicit funds to carry the same into effect.

—"Dan" Gilligan, a tenant in one of E. G. Gardner's houses near Jackson square, created quite a sensation Saturday night. During the day he had been overloaded with ardent and his wife went to Judge Humphrey and got out a warrant for his arrest, Armed with this warrant, officers Fay and Vogel made one or two ineffectual attempts to find him in the evening. About twelve o'clock at night another tenant in the building discovered smoke issuing from the department of Gilligan and proceeding to his rooms found that he, Gilligan, had filled the stove with Mrs. G's. clothing which he had set on fire and had also made a bon-fire on the floor with what he could not get in the stove. Fay was again sent for and with the assistance of neighbors succeeded in capturing Gilligan who had secreted himself under a bed. He was taken to the lock-up where he spent Sunday and on Monday was before the court at Quincy where he received a sentence of two months at Dedham.

—At about nine o'clock Wednesday evening a team came tearing down Washington street and turned into Broad street with the horse running at a furious rate and a woman crying "Stop my horse." A number of citizens in the vicinity rushed to the scene, and as some of them grabbed the horse a man jumped from the team and disappeared in the woods. The woman had a young child with her and said her name was Detrick; that her husband worked in Fred Stetson's livery stable at Brockton, and that she'had been visiting her grandfather, Johnathan Hayden, at Quivey Point. While diviving along in the men rushed out and took the horse from the carriage. She afterwards got posses-sion of the horse and started off and one of the men jumped into the team and taking the reins drove rapidly toward South Wey-mouth. He then turned around and started for East Weymouth. It is a queer case and a great many of the woman's statements seem very improbable.

In all probability Prince Bismarck will spend less time than usual this summer at Kissengen. According to German papers, it is possible that he will not visit the place at all. This supposition seems to have been founded on the fact that Dr. Schweninger, the ex-chancellor's physi-cian, has been in Nervi, near Genca, for the nurrose of studying its climatic con-famous Wilhelm-strasse in Berlin.

Fire Engines Made of Paper.

The Berlin Fire Department is experimenting with a novel fire engine. The carriage is constructed entirely of papier mache, all the different parts, the body, wheels, poles, etc., being fluished in the best possible manner. While the durability and power of resistance possessed by this material are fully as great as those of wood and metal, the weight is much less. This lightness is, of course, of marked advantage, since it will enable the new engine to reach the scene of the fire with unusual dispatch.

How sawyer Votes.

Senator Sawyer is said to have an infallible way of keeping straight on rollcalls. "I've got just before me," says he, "a steady, straight voting Republican, Senator Sanders. If he votes 'yes' I vote 'yes,' too, and if he says 'no,' I follow his example, and I always feel safe. But that isn't all. Right after me is the same kind of a Democrat. Senator Turpie. I listen to find out what he votes, and if he votes opposite from Sanders I'm doubly sure I voted the right way." How Sawyer Votes

A Cow Story.

The newspapers still repeat the story of the Kansas cow that was caught up by a cyclone "and deposited on the angle of a roof, where she could neither fall nor be taken down. So they had to kill her." Now, of course, as she can't "be taken down," they have a dead cow on the roof instead of a live one. It is difficult to see what has been gained by the change. In point of fact, if this story were not a cow story it might be taken for a fish story.—Philadelphia Record.

The Czar in Danger. A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the Russian police, acting on a warning from the police of Paris, have discovered a number of mines under the Gatchina Palace, extending for several kilometers around the palace. The Government is trying to hush up the discovery. The people of St. Petersburg are terror-stricken, believing that the recent explosions at the Nicolai Bridge and the death of Gen. Gresser are connected with the plot against the czar.

two styles of samps, our and new, and then describes a famous gun of the Kearsarge.

The famous gun which sunk the Alabama stands in the center of the quarterdeck, the first object the eye of the visitor is attracted to. It is highly polished, and has the name "Winslow" on its side in German text brass letters. This name was given the gun in compliment to Capt. Winslow, who commanded the cruiser in her famous fight. Just above the gun, on a brass plate, are the words "June 19, 1844," the date of the battle. Below it, on the steering-wheel, are the words "Supner Paratus" (always ready). The Winslow was a 11-inch gun when it sank the Alabama, but it is now remodeled into an Sinch rifle. In the forward part of the cruiser is a companion gun to the Winslow, which also took part in the Alabama fight. It is called Thorntoni, in honor of the executive officer of that name who was in the engagement. Besides the two famous guns, the Kearsarge is equipped with four 9-inch broadside rifles and a 60-pound Parrot rifle in the forecastle.

Little ills will sure betide you, REVIEWAL OF WORK sachusetts Legislature. THE SESSION WAS LONG.

The best thing to do is this: when you're suffering from Sick or Bilious Headaches, Consti-pation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, pation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, or any derangement of the Liver, Stomach, or Bowels, get something that relieves promptly and cures permanently. Don't shock the system with the ordinary pills—get Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They're the smallest, for one thing (but that's a great thing), and the easiest to take.
They're the best, for they work in Nature's own way—mildly and gently, but thoroughly and effectively.
They're the cheapest, for they're quaranteed to give satisfaction, or
